

Rain and Colder; Friday Fair.

The Washington Times

LAST EDITION

NUMBER 6878.

Yesterday's Circulation, 40,274

WASHINGTON, THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 3, 1910.

Eighteen Pages

PRICE ONE CENT.

RAILWAY BOARD HURRIES TESTS OF STREET CARS

Secretary Eddy to Make Final Views on New Type At Meeting.

PROBLEMS CENTER ON VENTILATION

Conditions In Chicago Will Be Used As Examples During This Afternoon's Meeting.

Status of Work for Better Car Service

Report to be made to street railway commission this afternoon in sympathy with people in fight for improved car service.

Secretary Eddy addresses final views to commission on new type of car of Capital Traction Company, installed this week.

Car designed to take place of open cars in summer is cross between "pay within" and "pay-as-you-enter."

Company plans to install 150 new cars. Favorable position of commission expected to hasten placing of order.

A report to be made to the District Electric Railway Commission by Secretary Eddy this afternoon will, it is believed, have important bearing on the effort of the Washington public to obtain better street car service in summer.

Mr. Eddy is to give his final views to the commission regarding the new type of car being installed by the Capital Traction Company, which is designed to afford practically all the comforts of an open car during the hot months.

Car "131" Favored.

Last June, when the Capital Traction Company experimented with this type, it was known as No. 131. Mr. Eddy reported favorably on it to the commission.

The demand of Washington residents that they be given better accommodations in summer, and not be forced to ride in closed cars, a fight in which they were led by The Times, was followed by an announcement by the Capital Traction Company that it would put twenty cars of the No. 131 type into commission by December 1, and that if it proved successful the company would purchase 130 more like them.

On Monday of this week, one month ahead of time, the company put into service several of the new type of cars. This is taken as an indication that an effort will be made to test the practicability of the cars as soon as possible, so that the full equipment of 150 cars may be put into service at an early date.

Mr. Eddy would not indicate what would be the nature of his report, but the fact that he is to give his opinions on the merits of the car to the commission a second time is an indication that he is desirous of the commission shall do all within its power to hasten the complete installation of the 150 cars which the company has announced it is considering purchasing.

The new type is a cross between the "pay within" and "pay-as-you-enter" cars, now used in Washington, and is featured by the elimination of the interior bulkhead doors. There are three windows in this morning its center is east of Cape Hatteras. This disturbance is causing unsettled weather and rain throughout the Atlantic States, and snow in Vermont and at scattered points in the Lake region.

The indications are that the Atlantic coast storm will move northward and cause rain this afternoon and to-night and Friday in New England. The temperature will be lower tonight on the immediate Atlantic and east Gulf coasts, and it will rise within the next thirty-six hours in the upper Lake region, the lower Ohio valley, and Tennessee.

WEATHER REPORT.

A disturbance developed during Wednesday night off the south Atlantic coast, and this morning its center is east of Cape Hatteras. This disturbance is causing unsettled weather and rain throughout the Atlantic States, and snow in Vermont and at scattered points in the Lake region.

The indications are that the Atlantic coast storm will move northward and cause rain this afternoon and to-night and Friday in New England. The temperature will be lower tonight on the immediate Atlantic and east Gulf coasts, and it will rise within the next thirty-six hours in the upper Lake region, the lower Ohio valley, and Tennessee.

FORECAST FOR THE DISTRICT.
Rain this afternoon and tonight; colder tonight. Friday fair; moderate north to northwest winds.

TEMPERATURES.
8 a. m. 41
9 a. m. 41
10 a. m. 41
11 a. m. 41
12 noon 41
1 p. m. 41
2 a. m. 41

SUN TABLE.
Sun rises 6:38
Sun sets 5:29

TIDE TABLE.
Today—High tide, 8:34 a. m. and 3:08 p. m.
Low tide, 3:06 a. m. and 9:38 p. m.
Tomorrow—High tide, 8:28 a. m. and 3:35 p. m.
Low tide, 3:43 a. m. and 9:42 p. m.

CONDITION OF THE WATER.
HARPER'S FERRY, W. Va., Nov. 3.—Both rivers clear this morning.

FIANCEE KEEPS VIGIL AT VICTIMS BEDSIDE

Miss McClure's Devotion to Goodwin Aiding Him to Recovery.

If the devotion of his fiancée will expedite his recovery, S. B. Goodwin, the ex-cavalry non-commissioned officer at Fort Myer, who accidentally shot himself last Tuesday afternoon at Miss Pearl E. McClure's apartment in the Victoria, will be able to leave Garfield Hospital in a few days to claim Miss McClure as his bride.

Despite the fact that Mr. Goodwin has been at the hospital but two days, the attendants have already become pretty well acquainted with Miss McClure. They can tell by the clock when she comes. She goes to the hospital morning and afternoon and remains as long as the rules allow.

The accident came near postponing the nuptials. The 18th of this month was set, and Mr. Goodwin was here making plans. Still there may be some delay, but members of Miss McClure's family expect the wedding to take place on or about the date originally set. Preparations for the affair will continue as if nothing had happened.

Mr. Goodwin's injury is limited to the scalp, and the physician in charge predicts a speedy recovery.

AUTO MEET OPENS AT ATLANTA, GA.

Race Between Ty Cobb and Nap Rucker Called Off.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—A three days' meet at the Speedway here, for automobiles, began as the starter's gun was fired at 11 o'clock today.

Crack drivers and fast machines from all parts of the world are present. The track is in perfect condition and the weather ideal for speed.

A contest between Ty Cobb, of the Detroit American baseball team, and Nap Rucker, of the Brooklyn Nationals, had been arranged, but Detroit Manager Frank Navin wired Cobb forbidding his participation in the race.

Judge George A. Bell, who yesterday granted a temporary restraining order against the American Automobile Association and the Atlanta Automobile Association, met last night dissolved the injunction, thus again placing the ban on Oldfield as a racer.

ROOSEVELT RENEWS ATTACK ON JUDGE

Former President Assails Candidate Baldwin for Court Decision.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 3.—Theodore Roosevelt today attacked Judge Simon Baldwin, candidate for governor of Connecticut, on his way to Chicago.

He scored Judge Baldwin again for his decision on compensation for injured workmen, and incidentally aimed a shaft at John A. Dix for the latter's reference to the Roosevelt-Baldwin incident in his New York speech. The former President said:

"Mr. Dix becomes exceedingly vainglorious about me the moment I leave the State. I'll answer him when I get back."

"I call the attention of wage workers to the fact that having in effect decided the bakeshop decision which forbade New York State to interfere to prevent workmen from laboring an excessive number of hours under unhygienic conditions, he now in effect defends a decision declaring workmen's compensation also unconstitutional."

The decision of Judge Baldwin, which Mr. Dix "phoned" will not, I am confident, prove to be the law of the land either in nation or State, but to give it its proper place in the annals of the canal zone. The fortification of the canal will be one of the things investigated by the President.

PRESIDENT IGNORES ANNEXATION RUMOR

Panaman Minister, However, Indignantly Denies Report of Republic's Absorption.

Although there will be no official denial to dignify the published report that the President is considering the annexation of Panama, it is said at the White House that the President has no such matter under consideration, and that it is not one of the problems to be considered by Mr. Taft on his visit to Panama next week.

The President will sail for Panama from Charleston, S. C., on November 9, and probably will remain a few days in the canal zone. The fortification of the canal will be one of the things investigated by the President.

The report that President Taft was considering the possibility of annexing the republic of Panama was indignantly denied here today by C. C. Aronson, minister to the United States from Panama.

SUFFRAGETTES GET WELCOME TONIGHT OF STUFFED CLUBS

Men Seeking Right to Vote In District Fortified for Visitors.

AFRAID CHANCE WILL BE SPOILED

"Keep Your Fingers Out of Our Pie," Is the Expression of Some, and War Is Anticipated.

Ammunition in Suffrage War Tonight

"To inject woman's suffrage in the men's campaign injures their chances," says John B. Colpo, president Central Labor Union.

The suffragettes will meet with warm opposition if they try to demand equal rights, say the men.

"We are determined to protest against any suffrage for men that does not include equal rights," say the suffragettes.

When a delegation of militant suffragettes invades the citizens' franchise meeting tonight at Costello Hall they are to be greeted with red-hot protests against making woman's suffrage an issue in the suffrage campaign to be waged by men of the District.

The meeting is likely to assume a spirited debate, and several women lawyers will be on hand to try their argumentative powers against those of a few mere men.

"Will the suffragettes meet with opposition tonight?" said John B. Colpo, president of the Central Labor Union, today. "Why, they most certainly will, and from a number of men. If the women want to kill the men's chances of gaining the ballot here in the District, they could not do so more effectually than by insisting that Congress grant the same privilege to themselves."

Hustle For Themselves.

Yet Mr. Colpo and other men who expressed the same opinion are not opposed to woman suffrage. On the contrary, they are anxious to display any lack of civility toward the fair sex. But if the women want the ballot, they say, let them hustle for themselves, for the men have suffrage troubles of their own.

On the other hand, there are many citizens interested in the franchise meeting of tonight, who take an almost cheerful view of the determination of the women to obtain the right of suffrage in the District.

Charles W. Darr, a prominent lawyer, who is taking an active part in the men's franchise movement, said this morning:

"Don't think it will matter one way or another if the women inject woman's suffrage into our campaign, for the reason that we are asking suffrage for citizens of the District. Now, when Congress comes to consider our demands, and to grant them, we will see who gets the suffrage. I think the men will get it, and the women won't. You see, we are merely asking suffrage for the citizens of the District."

"Arrest women citizens as well as men" is the retort of the suffragettes. "We certainly intend to go tonight," stated Miss Emma Gillett, "and to demand that women get justice. We are going to make a protest, and we are going to stand firm."

Meanwhile, the situation has become a little tense.

"If the women will only keep their finger out of our pie," say the men who want to vote.

"Their pie," exclaim the women. "Just wait till tonight. We'll show you."

GOVERNOR LOSES BALTIMORE FIGHT

Judge Rules Chief Executive Cannot Remove Police Commissioners.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—Judge Harlan, shortly before noon today handed down a decision dismissing Governor Crother's petition for a mandamus against the present board of police commissioners in the governor's attempt to dismiss from office the present board and appoint a provisional board.

Judge Harlan in his opinion upheld the action of Police Commissioners Wetzel, Clothworth and Tome in their refusal to relinquish their offices. The action of the governor was begun. It was alleged, on account of the police commissioners failing to dismiss certain members of the police force in connection with cocaine, liquor and other petty graft.

Judge Harlan's decision is sweeping. It holds that the governor is utterly without power, although chief executive of the State, to remove the commissioners. The police board is appointed by the governor.

HERE'S PAULINE AT LAST; A REALLY AND TRULY COW

Presidential Milk Provider Receiving This Afternoon on White House Lot, Having Safely Arrived After Months' Delay and Many False Starts—Seven Gallons of Real Milk Daily Her Average on Senator Stephenson's Farm In Wisconsin, But She Promises to Do Better.

Her Bovine Majesty Pauline Wayne, four years old. Naturally, therefore, a Presidential family, grazes contentedly upon the White House lot today, oblivious to the ado about her arrival, the click of cameras, and the bustling activities of stable attaches who now have been elevated to the position of attendants upon the Presidential cow.

Pauline Wayne, who needs no press agent to gain publicity, reached Washington this morning after a two days' journey from Kenosha, Wis., where is located the farm of Senator Isaac Stephenson, her donor. Pauline was accompanied by "Jim" Torrey, superintendent of the Stephenson farm.

Pauline is a regular cow. As the school boy would say, she has a leg at each of four corners, weighs 1,500 pounds—about twice as much as the ordinary animal which the District Health Department submits to the tuberculin test—has a few black spots on a white background, and is number 11,538 in the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Her cowpals' great aunt, named Gertrude Wayne, was accustomed to yield twelve gallons of milk per day. The Presidential Pauline, however, is only four years old. Naturally, therefore, a Presidential family, grazes contentedly upon the White House lot today, oblivious to the ado about her arrival, the click of cameras, and the bustling activities of stable attaches who now have been elevated to the position of attendants upon the Presidential cow.

Pauline Wayne, who needs no press agent to gain publicity, reached Washington this morning after a two days' journey from Kenosha, Wis., where is located the farm of Senator Isaac Stephenson, her donor. Pauline was accompanied by "Jim" Torrey, superintendent of the Stephenson farm.

Pauline is a regular cow. As the school boy would say, she has a leg at each of four corners, weighs 1,500 pounds—about twice as much as the ordinary animal which the District Health Department submits to the tuberculin test—has a few black spots on a white background, and is number 11,538 in the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Her cowpals' great aunt, named Gertrude Wayne, was accustomed to yield twelve gallons of milk per day. The Pauline has not been consulted with reference to parting with her prospective offspring, but inasmuch as Pauline is now in the Government employ, she is subject to executive mandate. Had it not been for some careless Pennsylvania railroad switchman, Pauline would have reached the White House lot shortly before dawn this morning.

"Jim" Torrey wired ahead that the cow would arrive at 4:40 a. m. Several sleepy White House employees hurried to the Union Station in the early morning chill and demanded immediate entry to an express car in which Pauline was supposed to be chewing her cud.

The crow of a chicken or so and the yelping of a caged dog greeted their intrusion. Pauline wasn't present, and Jim Torrey rubbed his eyes and began to make frantic inquiries. It was found that Pauline had been switched to another train. She reached Washington this morning, and was given a welcome by her stable as milk provider to the President.

After a continued diet of hay, which is known to cows as breakfast food, Pauline nibbled the grass upon the White House lot with avidity today. It reminded her of home and the tender care of a Stephenson.

Occasionally, Pauline posed for a photographer, and like everybody else associated with public life, accepted the honors paid her as a matter of course. John Scott will have immediate supervisory duties when she enters upon her duties at the White House stables.

WICKERSHAM WANTS NEW RULE AT JAIL

Attorney General Favors Transfer of Authority to Commissioners.

The next District appropriation bill will contain a provision for the transfer of the District Jail from the supervision of the Attorney General to the Commissioners.

The Commissioners today received from Attorney General Wickersham a letter approving the proposed legislation which will transfer to the Commissioners "all the authority, duties, discretion, and power now vested in the Attorney General of the United States by law, in relation to the support of prisoners sentenced to confinement in the jail of the District."

In order of the Government to confine Federal prisoners in the jail, the Attorney General suggests there be included a clause authorizing the Commissioners to receive and keep in jail all prisoners committed thereto for offenses against the United States.

The co-operation of the Attorney General in obtaining this legislation is considered by the Commissioners of great advantage to the District.

Major Judson said today that the establishment of the new workhouse and the reformatory in Virginia probably will result in legislation confining the management of the jail and Washington Asylum, which will reduce the number of institutions supported by the District with a resultant saving in the cost of administration.

RECORD HAIR CUT ORDERED IN CHINA

PEKING, Nov. 3.—There was consternation in official circles today when an imperial edict was announced, commanding all representatives of China in foreign countries to sever their queues.

This means that every Chinese ambassador, minister or consul or consular agent must obey the order which states that it is effective "immediately." The edict is believed to be only the forerunner of another commanding all Chinese to "allow suit, entailing such a wholesale hair there may be no doubt of the result."

ELEVEN HURT IN CAR CRASH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Eleven persons, ten of them women, were injured today when two Central Park cross-town cars crashed into a wagon in Eighty-sixth street, near Central Park West. Edward Bessel was the only one seriously hurt.

NEW NATIONAL BANK IS ORGANIZED HERE

Col. Arthur E. Randle Will Head Washington's Latest Financial Institution.

Application has been made to the Controller of the Currency for permission to organize the Federal National Bank of Washington.

The capital of the new institution will be $250,000, and this will be put out at $200 a share, giving the bank a surplus equal to its capitalization immediately on the opening for business.

Col. Arthur E. Randle, W. E. Fowler, W. J. Lambert, M. Sands, and M. A. Winters are the incorporators, and the location of the new bank will be in the Central Bank building, on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Seventh street northwest.

ROOSEVELT COMING TO LECTURE HERE

Former President to Open Series At Geographic Society.

Theodore Roosevelt will be brought to Washington as the guest of the National Geographic Society to open the winter series of twenty lectures planned by that organization.

Though the society was able to make no definite announcement of the date it is understood that Mr. Roosevelt has already accepted the invitation. Work of planning the seating arrangements at Convention Hall were begun today.

The former President is expected to make his first visit to the National Geographic Society since he left the White House for Africa late this month.

The subject, it is understood, will be on the faunal discoveries he made while on his African hunting tour.

CHINESE LEGATION VISITED BY STORK

Secretary and Mrs. Chang Refuse to Tell Daughter's Name.

From a tiny cradle of ebony, richly carved in symbols of the Orient, a baby girl with almond-shaped eyes and a funny little fringe of straight black hair, smiles into the faces of her two American nurses at the Chinese legation, and receives, quite as a matter of course, the homage paid her by the few privileged friends of her parents who have made her acquaintance.

Except for the unfamiliarity of an American physician with legation customs, the advent into the world of the girl baby, the daughter of the honorary secretary of the Chinese legation, Henry Kumpfy Chang and Mrs. Isabelle Tong Chang, now at hand, has been known only to the residents of the legation, at Nineteenth and U streets.

For a legation, being still under the jurisdiction of the laws of its country, is exempt from any such commonplace local law as that of registering births and deaths, and it is really hard form, according to legation etiquette, to bother about registering a new baby at the Municipal Building. Therefore, the Honorary Secretary and Mrs. Chang, and other secretaries at the legation here, were thrown into consternation when they learned that Mrs. Chang's physician, after the manner of American doctors, had today filed a record of little Miss Chang's arrival.

They are only grateful that the baby's first name has not yet been decided upon, so that a curious public may have the satisfaction of knowing comparatively little.

"In two weeks," said one of the secretaries of the legation today, "we will be glad to tell the name of the baby, and to give out any information about it. But until two weeks have passed no information can be given out."

Allured friends of the customs of aristocratic keep out of the limelight until it is two weeks old or not he did not say.

NEGRO ASSAILANT SOUGHT BY POSSE

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 3.—Miss Florence Moore, twenty-two years old, today lies in a hospital as the result of a murderous attack, in which she was dragged into an alley and choked into insensibility.

Her chances of recovery are small. A posse is looking for her assailant, believed to be a negro.

PUBLIC UTILITIES BOARD IN DISTRICT WILL BE DEMANDED

Bill for Commission Planned By Federation of Citizens' Association.

MEETING IS CALLED FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

Control of Traction, Light, and Telephone Companies to Be Asked of Congress.

Proposed Fight for Public Utilities Board

Federation of Citizens' Associations to urge creation of public utilities commission in District.

Meeting called for Saturday to be devoted to discussion of bill to be introduced in Congress.

Plan would bring railway, gas, and telephone companies under control of proposed commission.

Project may be only one federation will take to Congress during coming session.

Despite the fact that Congress is slated for a short session, the new Federation of Citizens' Associations is preparing to go before it with a bill to create a public utilities commission in the District of Columbia.

This became known today when William McK. Clayton, president of the federation, announced that steps preliminary to drawing up the bill will be taken at a meeting of the federation called for Saturday night.

The proposed commission will be unlike any outlined in any of the bills, which have been introduced in Congress on the subject before, and the effort to have it created will probably require all of the federation's time this winter, according to President Clayton.

Power to inquire into the status of the local street railway, gas, and telephone companies and make regulations for their control, is the object that will be aimed at in the creation of the commission. It is likely the bill to be prepared will require that persons living outside the District shall compose the membership of the commission.

May Ask For Lights.

With the federation about to start its fight for a public utilities commission, it is said that the meeting Saturday night may develop a movement directed toward the re-installation of the lights which were removed from county roads by order of Commissioner Judson.

Several of the citizens' associations having membership in the federation have already protested the action of the Commissioner.

The protests of individual associations may be brought to the attention of the federation, and it is regarded as probable, that the larger body may be asked to use its influence in getting the lights back on the county roads.

The plan of the organization, however, is to have the subject of lights, street railway transportation and telephone service handled by a utilities commission, and to have its attention directed in attempts to remedy individual cases.

The Brightwood Park Association, it is understood, will bring up the subject of appointing a committee to draw up a public utilities commission bill.

Indorsed by Legislators.

President Clayton today said that he had received letters recently from Senator Gallinger and Representative Smith, chairman, respectively, of the Senate and House District Committees, indorsing the general policy of the federation, and stating that they would do all within their power to assist it.

Mr. Clayton said he did not believe the federation would go to Congress with any project but the utilities commission bill.

Officers will be elected at the meeting of the federation Saturday night, with indications pointing to the re-election of the present officials. They include, besides Clayton, Glenn Brown, vice president; Eugene Thompson, secretary; and W. H. Richardson, treasurer.

It was said today that applications for membership had been received from several associations. Delegates who will be in attendance at Saturday's meeting will represent practically all the large associations of the District.

SAFE BLOWERS GET RICH HAUL IN IOWA

MASON CITY, Iowa, Nov. 3.—Four thousand dollars was stolen from the Farmers and Traders' Bank at Bancroft last night.

The safe was dynamited and the work done so carefully that no one was aware of the organization of a national movement among States and Nations for the erection of a memorial temple, George Washington was master of the Alexandria Lodge of Masons.

President Taft gave his tentative assistance.